

S STRUCK FROM BEHIND WITH A CLUB

BARRY MADDEFORD IS ATTACKED WHILE AT WORK BUT ASSAILANT ESCAPES.

Barry Maddeford, better known as "Chapple," while engaged in doing carpenter work yesterday afternoon at the old Gem saloon on lower Main street, received a severe cut over the eye, also several minor bruises, as result of an attack on him by one William Koefler.

Maddeford had his back toward the door when the aforesaid Bill entered and was dealt a blow over the head with a heavy cane. Bill then raised for a second, during which time he cast a couple of large rocks at Maddeford, which caused the bruises. Bill then beat a hasty retreat and was chased some little distance by several who were attracted by the shout of Maddeford. He outdistanced his pursuers but at late hour last night was captured by the police. The first blow stunned Maddeford so that he was unable to respond to the attack and defend himself.

The Italian residents of this portion of the town were highly infuriated over the affair and if the antagonist had been captured it is doubtful if he would have escaped with a whole skin.

RECEIVES WRIT OF PROHIBITION FROM CARSON

OFFICIAL DOCUMENT OF SUPREME COURT RECEIVED BY JUDGE AVERILL.

The writ of prohibition that was made permanent by the decision of the supreme court Saturday in the case of the Carson County bank case as received by Judge Averill yesterday, who ordered it filed by the clerk of the court.

This closes the case as far as the judicial district court is concerned, all authority being taken from Judge Averill and placed in the hands of Judge Langan, who under the phrase of the law, appointed George Hall receiver after this court made previous appointments.

In making the decision one of the reasons stated by the supreme court is that all the directors of the bank had not been notified when the application for a receiver was made to the fifth judicial court.

This appears to be a strange statement for when the application for a writ of prohibition was made all the directors were notified and the writ had not even been legally entered up to date.

AS MOTHER TESTIFY AS TO BIRTH DATE

PROGRESS IN GAMBLING CASE DELAYED BY LONG ARGUMENTS.

At the morning session of the district court yesterday where the case of C. M. Wandell vs. the Sixty-Six is being heard an argument was made by Attorneys Cooke and Tallan concerning the application of the law to the case. The question is raised by an objection to a question as to whether the defendant in the case had a printed sign "No Mors Allowed" on the wall of their place. The discussion lasted until 1 o'clock when Judge Averill ruled at the sign made no difference. The mother of Wandell arrived yesterday and took the stand in the forenoon. She testified that her only offspring was born on May 18, '86. According to the dope sheet Wandell must have been only 20 years of age at the time he gambled away the $10,000 he is seeking to recover.

MICKEY, JAKY AND IKEY AT THE BUTLER THEATER TONIGHT.

A crowded house, surpassing the attendance of the opening night, greeted the second production of "The Time, the Place and the Girl" at the Butler theater last evening. Every number on the program was catchy and was appreciated by the audience.

The change tonight will be that famous production "Ikey, Mikey and Jakey." This piece will be presented by a popular request and is considered one of the best in the repertoire of the company. It is a laugh producer from start to finish and the antics of the three Russians, Ikey, Mikey and Jakey are guaranteed to keep the house in an uproar.

Frank Phelan, constable, and H. F. Brede, justice of the peace, both of Rawhide, came over from Goldfield last evening and will continue on to their home this morning. Both gentlemen were summoned to appear before the grand jury at Goldfield in connection with the alleged graft that has been conducted in the northern camp. The grand jury complimented both gentlemen on the way they conducted the affairs of their office.

IS INJURED WHILE PRACTICING ZOUAVE DRILL

GEORGE SWASEY OF KO-KO DRILL TEAM SUSTAINS CUT ON CO-CK.

While practicing yesterday at the Nevada theater for the zouave drill team, George Swasey fell during the forming of one of the formations and received two lacerations on his face. One of the cuts necessitated the taking of several stitches by Dr. Cowden. However, the injury was not serious enough to keep Swasey from the drill and as soon as he was excused from the physician's office he reported back to the drill hall for duty.
